In all ages, legis ation has of Oregon. The board also took measures to been the special occupation of men little fit ed obtain memorials to the same effect from for it, or for anything elso. Man must'se ve Astoria, Salem, The Dalles and Albany. The a term at every other trade, but he is a born result shows what may accomplished by judlaw-maker. We see prodigies of his fertility cions work for a desired object. It also shows in the "bills" effered at every session of a the importance of maintaining an efficient legislative body. Fortuna ely few of them board of trade in this city. There is muc's pass; -- more fortunate were the number fewer that ought to be done by the general governstill. It is gratifying to know that 7000 bills ment for our state, and it is largely in the introduced into the last congress fell doid, not hands of this committee of the house of reprebeing considered at all. But though those sontatives. Mr. George will undoubtedly use bills died with the last congress they will be every opportunity to the uthost, as he is introduced again this session with 7000 acdl- anxious to serve the people whom he repretional ones. Multium non multa s no max- sents, and is naturally animated by the earlim of a law-making body. Grant on the retired list of the army, and Mr. Vest in again at the front with his big scheme for improvement of the Missis-Some of these are grave matters of legislation. But of course the greater number of the 7000 bills are very different in their scope and character from these. Yet every one of them is deemed highly important and oven necessary to this person, that locality or he other interest. Perhaps it would be wise to express the hope in the interest of a half-governed people that congress will pass the whole, 7000 bills. For if the people believe that laws can make a heaven on earth, why do not their logislators give them what they desire? Actually it may be feared that the people have forgotton or daily overlook half the honeficent laws now on their statute book; and, hav ng lost interest in old and stale ensotments, why should they not have good, fresh, funny and new ones, and plenty of them? In the reign of Heory VIII. there was a law making it a penal stance to make any pina except such as were double-headed and which hat their heads well coldered to the shank and we I smoothed; and Henry's son Edward had a scatuto enseted to limit the length of the boot toes of his lovelschame to prescribe materials for his peop o's grave clothes. And long before the days of shows monstrains the Normans passed laws to compet the English to put out their fires ab an early hour and go to bee, a souvenir of which enactment still survive in the word "curlew:" An old Danish king-it may have been the king of sureds and patences for whom. BAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22.

The week under review has been one of dul ness ; and inactivity in wheat, and prices have declined to $1:5 per cental for valley wheat, and at this rate we quote the market to-day. The Liverpool market at this sesson is generally dull, suyers not caring, as a rule, to in rease stocks before the and of the year. Whether the present depression will continue is a question we cannot enter nto, but it seems unlikely that wheat should much further decline, as the fact is new becoming generally conceded that the supply of tennage of the way will prove very nearly adequate to the wants of ounce 51%. U. S. bonds-43, 121.

The receipts of wheat from the interior have congive quick dispatch to vessels on berth. Arrivals for the week include the Dochra, Bel ons, Dunard and River Gauges, one or two of which are open or re-charter, but at rates above exporters' views. There have been no spot charters here so

ENGLISH MARKETS. The Wark Lane Express, in its roview of the British grain trade to Monday ovening, says: The week's temperature has been lower. Some of the carlier sown grain is exceptionally forward. Trade during the week was unsatisfactory, the condition of samples and deteriorating nature of the wheat rendering it more difficult to sell. First rate samples sed to complain of the crude condition steady sale. Rates for grades in plortiful supply were lower. Arrivals ampic. Flour is in full supply, but only the best makes sell freely. Foreign fiour is firm. American brands in moderate supply. Fine malling barley sold readily. Other grades are rejected. Foreign barley unchanged. Oats, winter, last year. Flour being in abundant supply, the depression in wheat had has a bearish influence on the lour market, and flioust prices have not been generally marked down, any pressure to sell would be followed by a decline, especially in any but standard brands. Oats have been in good request both for the ocat trade and for adjustments, while receips are by no Georgetown, throe miles sway, for its source means heavy. It is believed that the supply in this state now is but very little more than will be required or home someumption between this time and the nooming of the new crop. Prices are study at the figures given below.

There is still a fair inquiry for bacon and com considerable transactions have taken place during past few days at full rates. Packers are receiving and putting down larger quantities of meat the usual and it is not unlikely that imports for home use will not be necessarily continued much larger In the line of fresh meats, poultry, ste., for the holiday gade city dealers generally are making
